

GUEST of a GUEST

Everything You Need To Know This Week On New York's Art Scene

By Stephanie Maida

July 14, 2013 2:16 PM

The notorious nightlife scene of the '70s is the focus of And those who were seen dancing were thought to be insane by those who could not hear the music, a group exhibition whose flamboyant title is just as fantastical as its subject matter. From Andy Warhol's depiction of Studio 54 to Nan Goldin's polaroids of young men getting ready for a night out, these pieces prove that the frivolity of club culture still says nothing of its transience, as the rites and rituals of partying remain firmly in place today—given you might not see Bianca Jagger ride through 1OAK on a white horse anytime soon.

When: July 16-August 17

Where: Friedman Benda, 515 West 26th Street

[Photo courtesy of Friedman Benda]

Maida, Stephanie. "Everything You Need To Know This Week on New York's Art Scene," Guest of a Guest. July 14, 2013.

albertz benda

515 W 26th St | New York, NY | 10001
Tel 212.244.2579 | www.albertzbenda.com